FREMONT NO STATESMAN.

In the pursuance of the painful duty of exposing the impositions attempted by the Black Republican party, by presenting for the Presidency the name of an individual utterly unfit for the discharge of its responsible duties, we proceed to examine the pretensions of Colonel Fremont as a stateman; and, as one of his biographers has said that he "resembles Washington," we will see how far he resembles that man, whom it is profanation to compare with any other, in that first official attribute—accuracy and fidelity in his pecuniary transactions. In doing so, we mean no imputation upon the personal character of Colonel Fremont. We shall state recorded facts, and leave the people to judge for themselves of his motives and merits.

COLONEL FREMONT AS A DISBURSING OFFICER.

The chief dealings of Colonel Fremont as a disbursing officer arose during the campaign in California whilst he commanded the volunteers. The obligation of the government to pay all the expenses of the military occupation and conquest of California, was properly held to relate back to the beginning of the revolution. The term of service of the California volunteers began about the 19th July, 1846, when they were received into the service of the United States, and ended when they were discharged from its service about the 19th April, 1847.(1.) The California volunteers were then in the service of the United States ten months.(2.)

The whole amount of claims for the support of these volunteers, filed before the board appointed to audit them, amounted to $960,614.

The whole amount allowed by the board was $157,317. The immense proportion of $$03,297 was disallowed(3) or suspended.

From the authorities to which we have referred, it will appear that Colonel Fremont's command consisted for five months of 160 men, and for five months more of 450 men. This was an average command of 205 men. They cost the government the sum stated, and required for their transportation about 3,500 horses, and for their support about 3,000 cattle*—being at the rate of seventeen horses and fifteen cows per man, besides other supplies, and not estimating that they were at sea some six weeks of the time, and it is to be supposed subsisted upon the ship stores.

Report of board at p. —, in MS.

<sup>(2.)</sup> This was not a battalion. The use of the term is calculated to deceive. "A batalion is a body of infantry, consisting of from 500 to 800 men." This was a mounted company, consisting, during much the largest term of its military service, of less than 200 men, never more than 450. It consisted on the 19th July, 1840, of 160 men, and continued at that number until about the 1st November, 1846, when it was increased by recruits from new immigrants, 250 of whom, says Colonel Russel, enlisted.—[Ex. Doc. Ho. Reps. No. 175, 1st sess. 33d Con., p. 51.] It then numbered 450, which was the maximum up to the date of its discharge.

This statement of facts will fully justify the imputation that Colonel Fremont manifested in this campaign great extravagance in the use of public money.

We will next publish some of these claims to show that

Colonel Fremont evinced either a want of care, judgment, or integrity, as a disbursing officer.

On the 31st August, 30th September, and 11th November, 1852, Messis. Corcoran & Riggs, bankers, Washington city, addressed the letters which follow to the Secretary of War:

Very respectfully, your obd't ser't, Hon. Secretary of War, Washington, CORCORAN & RIGGS.

Washington, November 11, 1852.

Dear Sir: Under date of 30th September last, certain accounts were transmitted by us, at the request of Hon. Rob. M. McLane, for supplies furnished to the United States troops under the command of Captain J. C. Premont; among these accounts was one of Mariano G. Varlejo for $143,500, which ought to have been filed, as explanatory of the accounts to you August 31, 1852, amounting to $107,875—both accounts being for the same supplies, but the latter having been stated at reduced prices in consequence of Colonet Fremont's having refused to critify to the value of the articles as charged in the original account transmitted in our letter of 30th September. [Our italies,]

Yours respectfully, &c.,

CORCORAN & RIGGS.

Hon. C. M. Conrad, Secretary of War, &c.

As the claims of Vallejo were at first presented, they consisted of the three separate accounts which follow:

The United States, Dr.

To Mariano G. Vallejo.

For the following property taken from the ranchos and stores of Matiano G. Vallejo, for the new of the United States troops under the command of Captain John C. Fremont, in the month of August, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and forty-six:

month of August, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and forty-six:
To five hundred head of first-quality horses, at $100 each	$50,000
To three hundred and nine head of horses, at $75 each	23, 175
To two hundred and fifty head of wild mares, at $25 each	6,250
To forty saddles, complete, at $50 each	2,000
To forty pairs of spurs, at $5 each	200
To two hundred blankets, at $5 each

Sonoma, August 30, 1856.

I certify on honor, that the foregoing account is substantially correct and just; that the animals and other property enumerated were taken from General Mariano G. Vallejo for the use of the United States troops under my command serving in California during the year 1846; that this property was lost and expended in said service, and no portion of it returned to General Vallejo; and that he has received no compensation whatever for the same. I do further certify that the prices charged are reasonable, not exceeding the value of the property at the time it was furnished for the use of the United States troops under my command in California.

JOHN C. FREMONT.

M. G. VALLEJO.

In explanation of this amount, it is proper to state that I considered the stock owned by General Vallejo to be if superior quality, and that I was directed by this knowledge in admitting the higher prices set out herein. It is further proper to state that in Somona, and generally throughout California, the stock found upon farms was driven off, as much in the view of preventing it from falling into the hands of the enemy as for the use of the troops, to which latter purpose only a comparatively small portion was appropriated. Great numbers of the stock so driven off by us were scattered over the country, and were, consequently, but and perished. And it is in this extended sense that the words "consumed and expended" in the service of the United States were intended to be understood.

JULY 11, 1853.

JOHN C. FREMONT.

The United States, Dr.

To Mariano G. Vallejo.

For the following property taken from the ranches of General Mariano G. Vallejo, for the use of the United States troops under the command of Captain John C. Fremont in the month of August, A. D. 1846:

To eight hundred head of cows and large eattle, at $15 each	$12,000
To six hundred head of second class cattle, at $12 each	7,200
To six hundred head of third-class cattle, at $8 each
To one hundred head of sheep, at $5 each

M. G. VALLEJO.

SONOMA, August 30, 1846.

I certify, on honor, that the foregoing account is substantially correct and just; that the property enumerated and charged was taken from General Vallejo for the use of the United States troops under my command serving in California during the year 1846; that this property was consumed and expended in said service, and no portion of it returned to General Vallejo; and that he has received no compensation whatever for the same.

I do further certify, that the prices charged are reasonable, not exceeding the value of the property at the time it was furnished for the use of the United States troops under my command in California.

JOHN C. FREMONT.

The explanatory remarks of this date, appended to claim No. 9, I consider as applicable to this case.

JULY 11, 1853.

JOHN C. FREMONT.

[A small account of $500 allowed, omitted.]

These accounts, it will be seen, amount, in the aggregate, to $107,875. They are all certified by Colonel Fremont as correct.

On the 11th November, 1852, the bankers, in explanation of these accounts, present to the board one inclusive account, as follows:

The United States

To Mariano G. Vallejo, Dr.

For the following property taken from the ranchos and stores of Mariano G. Vallejo by the troops under the command of Captain J. C. Fremont in the month of June, July, and August, A. D. 1846;

To 500 head of number one horses, at $150 each $75,000

To 500 head of number one horses, at $150 each	$75,000
To 309 head of horses, at $100 each	30,900
To 800 head of cows and large cattle, at $45 each	12,000
To 600 head of second-class cattle, at $12 each	7,200
To 600 head of third-class cattle, at $8 each	4,800
To 150 head of sheep, at $5 each	750
To 250 head of wild mares, at $25 each	6,250
To 40 saddles, at $100 each	4,000
To 40 pair of spurs, at $10 each	400
To 9 rifles, at $100 each.	900
To 1 pair of pistols	100
To 200 blankets, at $5 each.	1,000

Sonoma, August 30, 1846.

I certify that the above account is generally correct. The property described was taken by the troops under my command, and used in the service of the United States. From the nature of the operations which have been carried on in this country, it has not been possible for me to keep myself exactly informed of the quantity of property taken from individuals; but in the present instance it was taken under my more immediate personal direction, subject to my inspection. I therefore believe the above account to be substantially correct, and accordingly acknowledge and approve it.

J. C. FREMONT.

Now, will any friend of Colonel Fremont explain to us how it was, that on the 30th August, 1846, Colonel Fremont certified the items of which the account amounting to $143,300 is composed, "as substantially correct, and accordingly acknowledge and approve it," and subsequently, on the 11th July, 1853, certified "on honor" the same items when scaled and reduced in the aggregate by the sum of $35,425, or thirty per cent., as being "substantially correct and just," and "not execceding the value of the property at the time it was purchased for the use of the United States troops?"

Colonel Fremont has also certified, at the same cates, the claim of Salvador Vallejo, amounting to $53,100, of Antonio Carrillo, amounting to $14,010, and others, at the same extravagant figures, and some of them are represented by the same solicitors:

[Claim No. 246.]

[Claim No. 230.]

The United States

To William D. Phelps, Dr.

For services for himself, crew, and beats of the barque Moscow, of Boston, of which he was part owner and in command, and being agent for all other owners, and for the risk and hazard incident to such service, in transporting Captain J. C. Fremont and a detachment of men under his command to a fort on the opposite side of the bay and entrance to the port of San Francisco, in Upper California, in July, 1846, and siding him in capturing and dismanting the said fort, and spiring the guns thereof, consisting of three brass and seven iron cannon, of heavy calibre, and a part of which was afterwards taken on board the United States ship Portsmouth, by order of Captain J. B. Montgomery, United States navy, $10,000.

E. E. WILLIAM PHELPS.

Sworn to by the claimant.

WINDIAM TIMES.

I certify that Captain William D. Phelps did transport a party of men under my command to the fort near the Presidio, at the entrance of the bay of San Francisco, under the circumstances narrated in the above deposition: that he aided in dismantling the fort, and that I have always considered his services on that occasion to have been very valuable to the United States.

JOHN C. FREMONT.

WASHINGTON CITY, August 5, 1853.

I certify that in July, 1846, Captain W. D. Phelps did transport a party of men under the command of Captain J. C. Fremont from Sancelito across the bay of San Francisco (seven miles) to the fort at Yerba Buena, commanding the entrance to the harbor, for the purpose of spiking the guns of the fort, which was in a very dismantled condition, and could not have been occupied without haring been almost entirely rebuilt. There was no enemy present, and the sele object Captain Fremont had in view was to prevent the Californians from using the guns at any future time. There was no risk or personal danger incurred, and the service would be well paid for at fifty dollars.

Board for the examination of claims contracted in California under Lt. Col. John C. Fremont.

[Opinion on the claim of Wm. D. Phelps, No. 230.—Services of boats' crew and use of boat, $10,000.]

The board deems a part of this claim, amounting to fifty dollars, ($50.) just, and ascordingly recommend so much of it in amount to the favorable consideration of Congress: the balance, nine thousand nine hundred and fifty dollars, ($0,050.) being disallowed.

C. F. SMITH.

. Col. U. S. Army, President of the Board.

FEBRUARY 8, 1854.

Here is a claim of ten thousand dollars, certified by Colonel Fremont to be just, which a competent witness says would be "well paid for at $50," and the board of sworn commissioners disallows nine thousand nine hundred and fifty dollars! The claimant, backed by Colonel Fremont's certificate, recovers just five per cent. of his demand! The public escapes the payment of nine thousand nine hundred and fifty dollars! Shade of Nathaniel Macon, rise and protect a plundered treasury!

How can these extravagant allowances, and these accommodating certificates, be explained? We ask a reply.

But the board of commissioners differed very greatly with Colonel Fremont and the great banking solicitors in their opinion of the value of hor es in California, and therefore abated the claims immensely. Speaking of that portion of the claim represented in the first demand by an account of $82,625, the board says:

Board for the examination of claims contracted in California under Lieut. Col. John C. Fremont.

[Opinion in the claim of Mariano G. Vallejo, No. 9.—Horses, cattle, &c., $82,625.]

On the additional testimony produced, the board is of opinion that a part of this claim, amounting to thirty-two thousand six hundred and twenty-five dollars, ($32,625,) is just, and accordingly recommend so much of it in amount to the favorable consideration of Congress: the balance, fifty thousand dollars, ($50,000,) being disallowed. This amount is arrived at by allowing the undermentioned rates, the price affixed for the first quality of horses appearing to be the highest that was paid by the quartermaster, or any other official, for horses for the California batallion, viz:

 Contour a statutor, 72.2

C. F. SMITH, Colonel U. S. Army, President of the Board.

The moderate little sum of $50,000, certified by Colonel Fremont "as just and correct" is certified by the board to have been an improper demand.

And so in the cases of Salvador Vallejo and C. A. Carrillo, both of which were "approved" by Colonel Fremont. This inexorable board made the following awards:

Board for the examination of claims contracted in California under Lieut, Col. John C. Fremont.

[Opinion on the claim of Salvador Vallejo.-Horses, arms, &c., $53,100. No. 16.]

On the additional testimony produced, the board is of opinion that a part of this claim, amounting to eleven thousand seven hundred dollars ($11,700) is just, and accordingly recommend so much of it in amount to the favorable consideration of Congress; the belance, fortyone thousand four hundred dollars ($11,400) being disallowed.

This amount is arrived at by allowing the undermentioned rates, viz:

REMARKS AND ACTION OF THE BOARD IN THE CASE OF JULIO CARRILLO.

It does not appear from this account—the only testimony before the board—when, where, or by whom, the property was taken.

The board is of the opinion that the prices charged are extravagant, and taking into consideration other claims, for supplies of a similar nature, that the number of animals is disproportionate to the force in service; on which points it deems additional testimony necessary. The board also deems additional proof or explanation requisite with respect to the number or quantity of the articles or supplies taken.

C. F. SMITH, Colonel U. S. Army, President of the Board.

In this last case there is the sum of more than fifty thousand dollars out of sixty-four thousand dollars, "approved" by Colonel Fremont as a proper charge upon the public treasury, disallowed and cast out as an attempted fraud and imposition by the claimants or those who represent them; and as a final and conclusive condemnation of these accounts so certified by Col. Fremont, and presented by Messrs. Corcoran & Riggs, the board made the following recapitulatory report:

[Report of board on Claims No. 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16.]

It does not appear from this account—the only testimony before the board—when, where, or by whom the property was taken.

The board is of opinion that the prices charged are extravagant, and, taking into consideration other claims for supplies of a similar nature, that the number of animals is dispreportionate to the force in service, on which points it deems additional testimony necessary.

The board also deems additional proof or explanation requisite with respect to the number or quantity of the articles of supplies taken.

iReport of board on No. 10.1

Withdrawn, and submitted "as explanatory" to claims Nos. 7, 8, and 9.

Now, lest it may be said that these prices were too low, or that in the case of the reduced accounts that prices had declined thirty per cent, within the period that intervened between the first and second certificates of Colonel Fremont, let us examine a few other accounts for supplies of the same description, furnished during the same campaign. The evidence which we shall adduce will vindicate the board from any imputation of injustice.

The first testimony which we shall offer will be that of one of Colonel Fremont's witnesses, Captain Hensley, who says, under the caption of "the average prices of military supplies of all descriptions in California, before and during the war:" "Horses and mules from $25 to $35. Beef cattle, from $8 to $10 per head."*

The reader will now examine the following accounts for horses furnished the volunteers, all of which were approved by Col. Fremont:

The board is of opinion that the chain is reasonable and just, and accordingly recommend it to the favorable consideration of Congress.

It is not the least extraordinary feature of this transaction that those three thousand five hundred horses should have dwindled down at the close of the campaign to less than two hundred, and that when turned over to the United States they were scattered about and abandoned, and "a great part of them, and the pick and choice of them, sold for a trifle, say some three thousand dollars."*

We have cited a few of the numerous claims presented to the board and allowed. From these it will be seen that, whilst the rich and powerful family of the Vallejos, whose chaims were subsequently stated by influential bankers, were allowed to make out their accounts at prices four and five hundred per cent, above those charged by others for the same supplies during the same campaign, and were, moreover, allowed to vary their charges 30 per cent, with the certificate of Colonel Fremont for both sets of prices, the humble and friendless settlers, and the helpless Mexican widow, received but from one-fifth to one-fourth of the prices allowed them for the same articles. Look at the claim of Antonio German for 12 horses, at from $12 to $25: of Win. B. Elliott for 1 horse, at $30; of Mrs. Castro for 40 horses, at $10 each; for 30 mares, at $7 each; and for 20 horses, at $13 each. Was their stock less valuable than that of Messrs. Vailejo? Unhappy widow! unfortunate settlers! you were poor; you had no rich bankers to back your little claims; your horses were not worth one-fourth as much as if they had been raised on the ranches of General Vallejo!

Let not our readers think that the horses and cattle of Gen. Vallejo brought the high prices solicited and certified for them, because they had become more valuable by an increasing demand. Gold was not discovered in California for nearly two years after the conquest, and the horses beught of Vallejo, and Carillo, and de la Roso, were bought at the beginning of the revolution. The prices allowed the other claimants were for horses taken near the end of the revolution; yet the price of horses declines with the demand, and are worth less after an enemy has been foraging the country for ten months, than before he entered it!

We have no right to say that Colonel Fremont was in any manner interested in the claims represented by these wealthy bankers. We have no right to say that he favored these wealthy and influential Californians, that he might take an interest in their recovery from his own government. What his motives were we do not know, and therefore will not intimate. But this we will say fearlessly, because we are borne out by the recorded documents of the government in doing so, that Colonel Frement certified one man's horses to be worth $150 each, and the horses of others to be worth, at the same time and under the same circumstances, but from $10 to $25 each. That claims for horses and other stock were reduced more than thirty-five thousand dollars, with the certified approval of Colonel Fremont, and that the commissioners scaled these particular accounts more than eighty-four thousand dollars!

Here are the specifications. Carelessness, recklessness, favoritism, and connivance with the claimants. The friends of Colonel Fremont may defend themselves against any or all. We cite the facts, without any other comment than this, that Colonel Fremont was either no judge of horse-flesh himself, or thought nobody else was. That is all.

We shall offer but one other evidence of his want of judgment, or of his reckless indifference to the public interest.
